emsCharts Announces NEMSIS 3 Certification in South Carolina emsCharts achieves NEMSIS 3.3.4 Certification in South Carolina

July 20, 2017 - Pittsburgh, PA – emsCharts, a leader in Electronic Patient Care Records (ePCR) and Fire Reporting for public safety professionals, is now approved for NEMSIS 3.3.4 submission within the State of South Carolina, ahead of the August 1st deadline.

emsCharts has received the following approval from the South Carolina EMS Performance Improvement Center:

“emsCharts is approved to begin submitting live version 3.3.4 data to the state of South Carolina.”

emsCharts, a subsidiary of Golden Hour, has been a national leader in NEMSIS compliance for the past 10-years. As documented on the NEMSIS website, emsCharts helped lead NEMSIS Gold Certification (v2.2) many years ago. In addition, emsCharts has been approved for NEMSIS 3 submittals since August 2015. emsCharts has a great deal of experience sending NEMSIS 3 data to many States, including exporting multiple NEMSIS versions simultaneously for a single ePCR record. emsCharts is glad to add South Carolina to the growing lists of States that are certified.

“We are proud to remain leaders in NEMSIS reporting throughout the country and are pleased to add South Carolina to our list of approved States,” said Pete Goutmann, President & CTO of emsCharts. “We remain committed to our thousands of customers who utilize our emsCharts service. And we will remain leaders in regulatory compliance as we continually enhance our product offerings in support of our customers.”
